A little bit about the Core Member's personality:

Lauren is very routine oriented and can get frustrated when the routine is broken. She's very social and loves to have company but usually after a few hours is ready for everyone to leave. She likes to have background noise almost all the time. Lauren usually has music playing throughout the day and sleeps with the TV on at night. Lauren is somewhat of a "neat freak" she doesn't like clutter and likes to keep things in her room VERY organized. She can be a little obsessive about it at times, but she's starting to lighten up on the cleaning as she ages.

Is there anything specific the Core Member is looking for in a roommate:

Yes

Please describe the ideal roommate for the Core Member:

Lauren is looking for someone to share a living space with her. She's not necessarily interested in being best friends with a potential roommate as she typically likes to do her own thing. She'd do well with someone that is able to do their own thing as well. Lauren would get along well with someone that liked to play or listen to music. One thing that would be important for Lauren is a roommate that's okay with Lauren's "moments." She sometimes gets upset and can yell at staff or family, she might even throw something that's loose on the counter. This usually only lasts for 10-15 minutes but it's something that should be known to potential roommates. She's never been aggressive towards others, just a little property damage every now and again.
